Cartel aircraft

An aircraft used by a parlementaire [1] sent to parley with the enemy. A cartel aircraft enjoys the same conditional immunity as the parlementaire, subject to any conditions that may be imposed for its identification, whether visual or by radio or radar, and on its flight plan. It may not be attacked or captured during the outward or return journey.

Civilian aircraft

A privately owned aircraft used to transport goods or civilian persons. Civilian aircraft are subject to the same rules as merchant ships.

Medical aircraft

See Medical aircraft [2]

Military aircraft

An aircraft that (a) proves its military purpose by using the distinguishing marks adopted for that purpose by the State to which it belongs; (b) is placed under the direct authority, and the immediate control and responsibility, of the State; (c) is commanded by a person whose name appears in lists of military personnel; and (d) is protected by a crew of military or militarized personnel.
